欢迎 WELCOME - March 21, 2020

OAC is moving all its spiritual care and worship services to online platforms. Hence, during these extraordinary times, church leaders are striving to provide an easy-to-access service online and by phone.

As a result, we will offer online bible studies with your regular class facilitator, and enjoy our worship service without losing the sense of community that we have built.

We invite you to visit our website oacvancouver.ca to find different ways to participate and engage with your OAC family:

Words Of Hope - Ryan Brousson

What are we to do in times of crisis? In times of need? Are we to look out for ourselves, clearing store shelves of food and necessities? Hoarding everything we can so we can stay secure, like we see people doing during this COVID19 pandemic?

Is this what Jesus would want us to do? What did Jesus do? Jesus went after people. He removed barriers, and created space for healing. When people were wanting to move away from others, He brought people together. People wanted to isolate themselves from their neighbours, Jesus went towards people.

This is what we are to model. We are not to close ourselves off from those around us. We are the light of the world. We are called to reflect God's love to humanity, especially during times of crisis.

So during this difficult time of COVID19. Do not close yourself off from those around you. Be safe, keep physical distance if you are sick or worried about spreading the virus, but stay open to people. Serve others. If someone is shut-in, deliver some groceries. If someone is struggling with worries about family, friends, or work, reach out and pray with them. Though we may be physically separated at this time, remove the emotional, social, and spiritual distance.

Follow Jesus' example. Bring people together. Be the good Samaritan in someone's life. Be the hands of Jesus!

COMMUNITY LIFE

WORSHIPPING FROM HOME We want to see your face, know that we still be a big family. Send us a picture of you/family participating in one of our services online, and we will including in our live streaming worship next week. Send it to info@oacvancouver.ca

OAC OFFICE will continue open and working as usual. However, our facility manager (Gloria Cruz) will be working remotely until further notice.

NOTICE that all changes or modifications in our services and programs will be updated on our website first: oacvancouver.ca. Weekly e-newsletters will be sent and you can subscribe to text notification by texting "notify" to 604-262-2985

IMPORTANT: Foodbank shift for next week has been canceled. However, there are other ways in which you can still serve your community. Today more than ever, Canada Blood Donation urgently need donors to respond to the emergency and save people's life. Register at blood.ca.

SELF-ASSESSMENT: This tool developed by the BC Ministry of Health, will help you determine whether you may need further assessment or testing for COVID-19. You can complete this assessment for yourself, or on behalf of someone else, if they are unable to. Click on the link to access HTTPS://BIT.LY/2VXDFSH
